however, is accounted for in the fact that there is no other town in the world like Bryan, and no other set of merchants so wide-awake as the merchants of Bryan.

The Navasota Examiner is roaring about the mud and general street and sidewalk conditions in that city. It says the "residents of the town who are accustomed to wading around shoe-mouth deep, don't notice it so much, but the stranger who alights here during a rainy-day spell doubtless leaves the town with anything but happy recollections." In speaking of the sidewalks it says: "The apologies for sidewalks fronting a number of prominent business houses are only scattering, wabbling cobblestones and are a disgrace to the town." So, brethren beloved of the fair little city of Bryan, we see there are others.

The Texas Republic (bull moose) has already waded into the very distant and very problematical senatorial fight between Culbertson and Colquitt, and is supporting Culbertson. It would seem that Major Mose is wading in a little early, especially as it is a democratic affair; but as he has no party of his own to monkey with, he is perhaps excusable.

There are a number of matters that are of vital importance to the future welfare of Bryan, and The Eagle would suggest that the candidates for mayor arrange a public meeting for some night prior to January 7, the date of the election, to discuss the different issues. The voters are entitled to know where every man stands who would be mayor of the city.

When we get the interurban to the bottom we will shine. When we get Main street paved we will shine. When we get the interurban electrified we will shine. And, brethren beloved, they are coming, they are coming.

BRYAN'S MAMMOTH TURKEY BUSINESS

One Firm Has Handled Twenty Thousand This Season—Over Fifty Hands Employed in Packery.

The turkey business conducted in this city by produce buyers is assuming proportions which rank Bryan among the largest poultry packing centers in the state. Of the local dealers, the largest business is done by Allen Smith, and today the Eagle reporter dropped in to see his packing plant, where over fifty persons are employed.

The pickers swing their turkey up by the feet, slit the head, and in an incredibly short time the bird is picked and brought to the cashier, who gives a check to the picker and tosses the turkey onto a great pile of turkeys fifteen feet long and from three to four feet high, from which other hands get the turkeys and wash them before they are packed into barrels.

The turkey business conducted by Allen Smith is four times as large this year as last, and to date ten carloads, 20,000 pounds to the car, or about 20,000 dressed turkeys, have been shipped out.

The shipments are entirely handled by express, and the live turkeys come chiefly from a radius of fifty miles. The rush part of the season is just commencing, as large shipments are coming in daily. Thursday and Friday the two days' receipts were nearly 5,000 turkeys.

Mr. Smith says that all his shipments arrive and depart promptly and without the excellent service rendered by the express company his business would be seriously handicapped. The accommodation and courtesy of the local employees of the Wells-Fargo company is greatly appreciated, who, in spite of the enormous shipments which often fairly swamp them, render service which not only would please the most exacting, but makes it a pleasure to deal with them.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Mayor:
W. W. HARRIS,
GEO. E. HADLEY.

"INTERLOCKING DIRECTORS."

If Bob Henry's "money devil" is not captured, the red-hot chase and cork-screw probe has accomplished one thing for which the country should be thankful. It has shown how a very few of the kings of finance can, and do control, the financial and monetary conditions of this country. Experts in finance may have known, but to the laymen comprising the great commonality, it has been a Chinese puzzle. The plan is to bind the great financial institutions together with what are known as "interlocking directors." For instance there are 112 corporations controlled by J. P. Morgan and associates, and these various corporations have 341 directors, called interlocking directors, lapping over from one to another, cementing and binding the whole together with hoops of steel. To break their control of the finances of the country, is an Herculean task, but with this newly discovered evidence before them our statesmen will know how to proceed to better advantage.

It seems that every paper in Texas has tried to get ahead of its neighbor in the matter of a Christmas edition. Nine-tenths of them have anticipated the day by ten to twelve days. The usually modest country weekly now shows up looking like the Sunday edition of some big city newspaper. Such papers are gratifying, since they give evidence of both enterprise and prosperity.—Houston Chronicle.

Every day for the past two weeks has been "Christmas edition" day with The Eagle. We have been getting out ten pages every day and crowded for space for reading matter at that. This,
